A Report on

"SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS"

United Nations Sustainable Development Goals through Higher Education Institutions

Preface

The concept of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) was developed at the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development in Rio de Janeiro in 2012. The objective was to produce a set of universal goals that meet the urgent environmental, political, and economic challenges facing our world. The United Nations SDGs are a collection of 17 interlinked global goals. Based on the quantum of achievements in realizing the SDGs, the countries are ranked by the United Nations. India was placed at 120th rank in Sustainable Development Report-2021. This instigated urgent action from all sectors of the country. Due to their unique position in society, Higher Educational Institutions (HEIs) have immense scope and potential to contribute towards achieving all the 17 SDGs and thereby accomplishing the 2030 agenda. Rather, realizing the SDGs without the involvement of the higher education sector is quite an impossible task.
HEIs are townships and hubs for igniting young minds through education, innovation, and research. Each HEI can play a significant role in the effective implementation of SDGs in them respective regions and inspire society. The Association of Indian Universities (AIU) which represents 932 plus Indian HEIs has been spearheading the campaign to implement all 17 UN SDGs in the country by organizing Vice Chancellors' Meets at five zonal levels and one at the national level on the theme 'Realizing Sustainable Development Goals through Higher Education Institutions' during 2021-22.

"LetsNurture: Lighting-up the lives of poor children on New year by donating Toys, Books, clothes and Some Gifts"

Date: 02nd January, 2023

Time: 10:00 a.m to 2:00 p.m

Location: Madheli Village, Vadodara

Number of Volunteer's: 11

Every child, as he or she grows up, deserves toys to play with. Toys not only entertain the child, but also help in the child's emotional and educational development. A toddler's skills improve as it identifies colours and shapes in toys. As the child grows up, toys, games and story books help in learning alphabets and numbers. Brain games such as puzzles, card games and riddles benefit children through exercising the brain.
Underprivileged children from poor backgrounds are no different from other children. But they are deprived of the joys and pleasures of playing with toys simply because their parents lack the means to buy toys.

This is an initiative taken by the volunteers of Parul Institute of Engineering and Technology to give joy to less privileged kids by gifting old but usable toys to them. Volunteers have kept Empty boxes at different departments of Engineering and also encouraged the students to contribute in this noble work to feel great and self satisfied.

Volunteers informed the faculties that if you're adding exciting new toys to your kid's collection, some of their old ones might need swapping out. As kids grow, they develop new interests and skills, and former favourites get tossed aside like yesterday's news. But unless those discarded toys are dirty or broken, don't send them to the landfill. plenty of kids would love to give them a new home. So, On the occasion of New Years Eve, our volunteers of NSS conducted a small GIFT DISTRIBUTION to Nand ghar angadwadi Kendra and school children at Madheli gao.
Before the New Year, the Volunteers collected all the gifts given by faculties and organized them.

On the first working day of New Year, 2nd January 2023, the volunteers went to Nandghar angadwadi kendra for distribution at 9:30 a.m.

Meeting the children was too exciting and heart melting to see smiles on their faces. Volunteers introduced themselves to the children and interacted with them.

After interacting with the children volunteers started distributing gifts donated by our kind donors. The children became overjoyed. Then the volunteers made the children to do some activities with them like dancing, acting drama and played anthakshari with them.

The children were too energetic that they also get along with the volunteers in their kind and mischievous behaviour.

HUNF - Meals on Wheels

The HUNF - Meals on Wheels project is a dedicated initiative that prioritizes the well-being of the elderly population. As senior citizens often face challenges in procuring nutritious meals, our program has been designed to provide them with a free, one-time meal to cater to their dietary requirements. The program aims to support elderly individuals who may be facing financial difficulties or mobility issues that prevent them from accessing proper meals. Under the HUNF Project, we have successfully extended our reach to four villages, including the latest addition of Limda village this year. Our efforts have benefitted a total of 40 individuals, and we have delivered over 16,749 tiffins till date. Our mission to provide healthy and nutritious meals to those in need continues to make a positive impact in the communities we serve. Additionally, we have organized several health checkup camps for the elderly, ensuring that they receive the necessary medical attention and care. We believe in taking a holistic approach to community development and strive to address the needs of all members, especially those who may be more vulnerable or in need of extra support.

The institution offers flexible and innovative curricula that include credit-based courses and projects in the areas of community engagement and service, environmental education, and values-based education. These components contribute to a holistic and multidisciplinary education. Students can choose from a variety of courses across different disciplines allowing them to explore their interests and tailor their education to their individual goals. Integration of Indian Knowledge System

The National Education Policy of India highlights the significance of adopting a comprehensive and all-encompassing methodology towards education that acknowledges the value and applicability of the Indian Knowledge System (IKS). It comprises a collection of traditional practices, languages, arts, and cultural heritage that have played a vital role in shaping India's historical and cultural identity. In order to ensure successful implementation of the NEP, it is imperative to incorporate IKS.

- Curriculum Design and Content:
- The curricula have been modified to incorporate elements of IKS across various academic disciplines such that the relevant traditional knowledge, practices, and philosophies elements are incorporated.
- Collaboration with Traditional Knowledge Holders:
- The preparation of IKS content involves the participation of traditional knowledge holders and community leaders, such as BAPS, to ensure the accurate representation and transmission of IKS.
- This initiative additionally enables the establishment of partnerships and collaborations between Parul University and nearby communities to advance the incorporation of IKS.
- Furthermore, a mechanism has been established to facilitate community participation in both the design and delivery of these educational programmes.

- Assessment and Evaluation:
- Efforts are currently underway to devise suitable assessment techniques that can effectively gauge the comprehension and utilization of IKS.
- These methods are expected to surpass conventional evaluation methods, such as written tests, and instead incorporate oral presentations, practical demonstrations, and project-based assessments.
- The assessment practices will be designed to ensure cultural sensitivity and inclusivity, taking into account the diverse methods through which knowledge is obtained and exhibited.

It is essential for cultivating cultural pride, promoting inclusivity, and providing a holistic education experience that institutions are prepared for NEP implementation with respect to the incorporation of the Indian Knowledge System. Curriculum reforms, faculty development, preservation of indigenous languages, cultural sensitivity training, research and documentation, collaboration with traditional knowledge holders, and mindful assessment practices are required. By adopting and integrating the IKS, Parul University will provide a well-rounded education that honors the cultural heritage of India and prepares students to navigate the complexities of a globalized, diverse society.

The main objective of this activity is to provide mentoring to the students for their pre-final year projects. The pre-final year projects are very important for the placement of students. It is equally important that the students also get industry exposure.

Due to these reasons, Parul University has set a platform, where the glorious alumni of the university who are currently working at some well-known companies, come forward and guide the existing students on their ongoing projects. This will be very much beneficial for the students as they will get industry-oriented mentoring and guidance.

Activity Details:

Under the Alumni Student Mentorship Program (ASMP), selected groups of pre-final year students are assigned external and faculty mentors to help them with their projects and get them placement ready. Every week, an ASMP meeting is organized by the faculty guide and the ASMP mentor with the allocated students' project groups. Students can discuss their progress of the project with the ASMP mentor and faculty guide, and they will guide the students accordingly. This step will also bridge the gap between academia and industry. Students will be very much benefited for their placements in the future. More than 200 students got the opportunity for this mentorship. The meetings are conducted online by considering the convenient time of the mentor. The ASMP mentor can also verify the scope of the definition of the project. So, if any project scope is not feasible, it can be changed or altered. Overall, this is one of the best practices of CSE department to help students grow more and more for their placements in future.

NAAC Criteria VII- Best Practices

Best Practice-1

- Title: Journal Club Practice

- Objectives:
  - ✓ To develop strong pedagogical foundation amongst Teachers.
  - ✓ To prepare teachers with best teaching competencies and commitment.
  - ✓ To develop good communication skills amongst teachers.
  - ✓ To prepare teachers with scientific outlook, self-confidence, caring and human values.
- Context: A journal club is an educational meeting in which a group of individuals discuss published articles, providing a forum for a collective effort to keep up with the current literature. In this a group of individuals who meet regularly to critically evaluate recent articles or scientific paper in the academic literature or found in a research journal, by systematically examining research evidence for validity and applicability for a particular problem or situation. Journal clubs aims to link research to nursing education & clinical practice by encouraging critical review of the current medical literature and act as a vehicle for the application of evidence-based nursing through continuing nursing education.

- Practice: The practice of Journal Club has been initiated in 2021 with an aim to inculcate culture of research and allow faculty to interact, explore and discuss significant management education related issues. Journal club meetings are organized weekly once where a faculty member and PG Students makes a presentation on latest research paper. This helps in exchange of ideas and the latest in the field is brought to the table for all faculties & PG Students to discuss and brainstorm. Each presentation at the Journal Club meeting usually lasts for about thirty minutes followed by interactive session.

- Evidences of Success: Having the reports of journal club presented faculty & PG students. Also maintaining the attendance register.

- Problems Encountered & Resources required: Subscription of various research databases like Proquest, Ebsco & etc. are required resources for research papers study as well as subscription of journals and magazines of national and international repute by faculty members PG students for journal club presentation preparation. IT resources like laptop & projector are used for making an effective presentation within stipulated time limit.

- Outcome: Enhancement in knowledge and evidence-based practice. Critiques inputs for further research.

Best Practice-2

- Title: Earn While Learn

- Objectives:
  - ✓ To enhance the clinical expertise.
  - ✓ Provides opportunities for the students to earn while learning to meet their expenses.
  - ✓ Exposes the students to the world of work before the actual employment.
  - ✓ Gives students hands-on experience and confidence thereby prepares them better for taking up jobs in future.

- Context

  'Earn While Learn' (EWL) is a common concept which is widely practiced in foreign countries that has been recently picked up pace in India. It is turning out to be a major draw for several college students who might have otherwise dropped out due to financial reasons This scheme is inspired from the Medical PG model wherein the postgraduate students observe routine medical care of the department throughout the course duration. In PG nursing, the curriculum is much focused on theoretical aspects alone which created a lacunae between nursing theory and practice.

- Practice

  Parul university has taken the initiative to offer a unique scheme "EARN WHILE LEARN" for M.Sc. Nursing & P.B.B.Sc. Nursing students, which is aimed to enhance their clinical competence. Parul University has introduced this EWL scheme to hone their clinical skills which sets the foundation for postgraduate nurses in their future career prospects. This scheme also encourages and supports the students to make them self-reliant during the course of study.
- Evidences of Success

  Policy of "Warn While Learn"

- Outcome

  The Earn While Learn Programme provided an opportunity to the students to earn while they are learning if they are financial not stable.

2.3.1 Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem-solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences:

It means that students need to decide what they want to learn, how they want to learn it, and how they will evaluate their learning outcomes. Students are not dependent on a teacher or a curriculum, but they are motivated by their own interests, goals, and needs.

6) Patient-centric and Evidence-based learning: Patient-centric learning is a type of learning that focuses on the needs, preferences and values of the patients and their families, as well as the best available scientific evidence, to guide clinical decision making and practice. It aims to improve the quality, safety, and effectiveness of healthcare by involving patients and their caregivers as partners in their own care, and by using reliable and relevant information to inform and support their choices.

In evidence-based learning, educators and students use pertinent and trustworthy data from a range of sources, including research studies, data analysis, quality assurance procedures, and feedback systems, to guide and support their decisions and actions about learning.

• Patient Centric methods such as Clinical Posting in Hospital with organized structure of Clinical teaching-learning including interactions with patients • Feedback and case presentation • Bedside Teaching using history taking and medical records of patients • Advanced Medical Software for Evidence Based Medicine and CDSS like Up to Date, Lexicomp • Logbooks for experiences and reflective writing	Faculty of Medicine, Faculty of Nursing, Faculty of Ayurved, Faculty of Physiotherapy, Faculty of Homoeopathy

8) Project-based learning: Project-based learning (PBL) is a teaching method that involves students learning by doing projects that are based on real-world problems or questions. PBL helps students develop skills such as critical thinking, collaboration, creativity, and communication, as well as deep content knowledge. PBL can be applied to various subjects and disciplines, and can be adapted to different levels of complexity and duration.

All the programs of Parul University have projects as mandatory part of curriculum.

9) Role play: Role play can enhance students' understanding of complex or controversial concepts by placing them in a real-world context and exposing them to different viewpoints. Role play can be done in various ways, such as face-to-face, online, or asynchronously, and can be adapted to different levels of difficulty and duration.

• Students are encouraged to perform skits for community awareness, for example, right to vote, save girl child etc. • Students during the AETCOM sessions were encouraged to perform Role Plays focusing on Doctor-Patient relationship, Breaking Bad News, Confidentiality, Autonomy, Empathy, Communications in clinical settings, Working in the Health care team and other aspects of professional ethics. Unmanned aerial vehicles:

- In our University Drone Technology Laboratory which is a part of Aeromodelling Lab, PIET, Parul University where students used to make fixed wing UAV, multicopter and Robot for various applications. The students are trained here in this lab for various National and International competitions like Smart India Hackathon competition and IIT competition. Some of our students made airship drones and participated in International Regatta Airship UAV competition held at IIT Bombay. Students use the Laboratory resources for building the airship UAV. Students used Arduinoboard and DC Motors to power the Airship and converted it into a drone and used 2.4GHz Transmitter to control and maneuver it.
- Students built an agriculture drone using an aluminum Hexacopter frame from scratch in the laboratory itself. The students used the weight estimation methods to identify the individual component weights and built a thrust test rig to measure the thrust of individual motors.
- Students made a medical delivery drone and tested it, which was built from scratch in this laboratory which is equipped with various types of battery chargers, transmitter controllers, multicopter and remote-controlled airplanes and helicopters.
- Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs), commonly known as drones, have become an integral part of modern aviation and are revolutionizing various industries. Parul University, located in Gujarat, India, has established a prominent Aeronautical Department that recognizes the immense potential of UAV technology. With an emphasis on practical learning and cutting-edge research, the department has successfully integrated UAV activities into its curriculum. This article explores the UAV activity at the Aeronautical Department in Parul University, highlighting its significance, educational benefits, and research initiatives.
- The Aeronautical Department at Parul University believes in providing hands-on experience to its students, preparing them for the challenges of the aerospace industry. The inclusion of UAV activities in the curriculum serves as a practical platform for students to understand and engage with the latest advancements in unmanned aerial systems. From theoretical concepts to flight operations, students are exposed to a wide range of UAV-related topics.

- The curriculum covers fundamental aspects of UAVs, including aerodynamics, propulsion systems, flight controls, and autonomous navigation. Students learn how to design, build, and operate UAVs through both theoretical lectures and practical sessions. These sessions involve assembling and programming UAVs, testing their performance, and executing autonomous flight missions. The hands-on approach allows students to gain expertise in UAV operation, data collection, and analysis, enhancing their technical skills and problem-solving abilities.

- The incorporation of UAV activities in the Aeronautical Department's curriculum offers several educational benefits to students. Firstly, it provides an immersive learning experience, bridging the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world applications. By working on UAV projects, students gain a deeper understanding of aerodynamics, control systems, and mission planning.

- Secondly, UAV activities promote teamwork and collaboration among students. UAV projects require interdisciplinary skills, encouraging students from different specializations to work together. This collaborative environment fosters effective communication, project management, and enhances interpersonal skills that are vital for future aerospace professionals.

- Furthermore, the UAV activities at Parul University enable students to develop critical thinking and problem-solving abilities. They face challenges related to UAV design, flight performance optimization, and mission success. Students learn to analyze data, identify issues, and implement solutions, honing their analytical skills.

- The Aeronautical Department at Parul University is actively engaged in UAV-related research initiatives. These initiatives aim to explore advanced applications of UAV technology, address industry challenges, and contribute to the academic community. The department encourages faculty and students to pursue research projects aligned with their interests and the evolving demands of the aerospace sector.

- One notable research area is the development of UAV-based remote sensing systems. Faculty and students collaborate to design and implement UAV platforms equipped with specialized sensors for mapping, monitoring, and environmental studies. This research contributes to fields such as precision agriculture, disaster management, and urban planning.

- Another research focus is the integration of artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML) algorithms into UAV operations. The department explores the potential of AI and ML techniques for autonomous navigation, obstacle detection, and real-time decision-making. Such research enables UAVs to adapt to dynamic environments and enhances their capabilities for various applications.

- The Aeronautical Department at Parul University also fosters collaborations with industry partners to address specific challenges. These partnerships result in joint research projects, where students and faculty work closely with industry professionals to develop innovative solutions. These projects not only offer valuable industry exposure but also provide students with a practical understanding of real-world problems and potential solutions.

Objective:

The objective of Teacher's Day celebration is to honor and appreciate teachers for their hard work and contributions to education. It aims to create a positive teacher-student relationship, foster a conducive learning environment, and encourage students to reflect on the impact of their teachers. The celebration provides a platform for students to showcase their talents and express their love and respect for their teachers through various activities. Ultimately, the goal is to uplift the teaching profession and promote mutual respect and gratitude between teachers and students.

Activity Details:

Electronics and communication department:

Every year on the fifth of September, schools, and colleges across the country hold Teacher's Day celebrations in India. It is a day to appreciate the hard work and impact that teachers have in our lives. There was a celebration on teacher's day on 5th September 2022 at EC department, PIET. The chief guest was Principal and Dean of PIET Dr. Vipul Vekariya sir and Dr. Babita Choubey Ma'am and Vice Principal Mehul Gor sir on the teacher's day. 22 students participate as volunteers in the decoration team. They decorated the EC department and teacher's cabins with balloons and ribbons. The theme was pink and purple. They prepared rangoli. There was a rangoli competition at university level. They arranged different games for faculties and the faculty enjoyed it a lot. Students appreciate their faculties with a speech. They put up skits for their teachers as well as go to different classes to teach other subjects. There was lunch for the faculty. It is one of the best parts of the Teacher's Day celebration. Students look forward to impersonating their teachers, and teachers look forward to seeing these skits. Each student dresses up like a particular teacher, some wear sarees, and some wear formal pants and shirts. Students try their best to match the clothing of the Teacher they are impersonating. The junior classes have to sit for classroom sessions taken by the senior students. It is different from regular teaching. Other students in the classroom did additional activities.

Computer science and engineering department:

On September 5th, 2022, the CSE Department at Parul Institute of Technology celebrated Teacher's Day with great enthusiasm and gratitude. The event was organized to honor the dedicated faculty members who play a crucial role in shaping the lives of the students. Students from the 3rd, 5th, and 7th semesters of the CSE Department actively participated in the celebration, taking on the roles of faculty members for the day.

The Teacher's Day celebration included a variety of activities that showcased the students' appreciation and admiration for their teachers. They delivered heartfelt speeches, performed dance routines, and presented musical acts dedicated to the faculty members. Through these performances, the students expressed their gratitude and respect, acknowledging the profound impact their teachers have had on their personal and academic growth.

Distinguished guests, including Dr. Amit Ganatra, Dr. Vipul Vekariya, and Dr. Amit Barve, graced the event with their presence and shared their valuable words. These esteemed guests, renowned for their accomplishments and expertise, expressed their appreciation for the unwavering dedication and commitment of the faculty members in imparting knowledge and molding the future generation of engineers. Their encouraging words resonated with both the faculty members and students, instilling a sense of pride and motivation.

The Teacher's Day celebration at Parul Institute of Technology's CSE Department served as a powerful reminder of the significant role that teachers play in shaping the lives of their students. The event created a memorable and uplifting atmosphere, fostering a strong bond between the students and faculty members. It reaffirmed the importance of honoring and appreciating the remarkable efforts of teachers in nurturing and guiding the students towards success.

Aeronautical engineering department:

There was a cultural celebration on "Teachers Day" by Ms. Swati Chauhan on 5thSeptember, 2022 at Seminar Hall, Parul Institute of Technology. 160 students of the Aeronautical Engineering Department had attended the seminar. Our celebration started with Saraswati Vandana followed by the act by the students. An inspirational lecture on the topic Priority management for individuals (to become a better teacher), was conducted by Ms. Swati Chauhan. A talk delivered by Dr. Vijay Kumar Patidar on the celebration of Teachers' Day since 1962 in respect and deference of Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan who was born on 5th September, 1888. Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan was a great scholar, philosopher and teacher of modern India and was awarded the Bharat Ratna in 1954. He became the first Vice President of India (from 1952 to 1962) and the second President of India (from 1962 to 1967). It was his wish that instead of celebrating his birthday on 5th of September every year, it would be better to celebrate it as Teacher's Day all over India. Therefore, it was only natural that his birthday would be celebrated as Teacher's Day to pay respect towards teachers across the country. We are grateful and with utmost gratitude, and would like to thank all the students for celebrating a great day.

In terms of ensuring a safe and secure environment, the university has established crucial committees, including the "Anti-Sexual Harassment Committee," the "Anti-Ragging Committee," and the "Student Grievance Redressal Cell." These committees are designed to swiftly address any concerns or issues specific to female students, ensuring their rights and safety are upheld promptly.

Furthermore, the university has taken proactive measures to enhance security through the installation of CCTV cameras in all classrooms. This surveillance system serves as an additional layer of protection, allowing the university to monitor and maintain a secure environment while respecting the privacy and safety of its female students.

1. Safety and security:

- The University maintains a rigorous adherence to safety standards in all aspects of its operations.
- Continuous monitoring extends to various areas within the campus, including corridors, classrooms, the playground, canteen, laboratories, hostels, and the library.

CLEAN WATER AND SANITATION

SDG:6 CLEAN WATER AND SANITATION

Clean water and sanitation are fundamental human rights that form the cornerstone of health, well-being, and sustainable development. At Parul University, we recognize the critical importance of ensuring access to clean water and adequate sanitation facilities for all members of our community.

Our commitment to clean water and sanitation is reflected in various initiatives and infrastructure developments across our campus. Through strategic planning and investment, we have implemented state-of-the-art water purification systems to ensure that all water sources on campus meet stringent quality standards. This includes regular testing and monitoring to safeguard against contamination and ensure the safety of our drinking water supply.

In addition to providing clean water, University places equal emphasis on promoting proper sanitation practices. We have implemented comprehensive sanitation facilities throughout our campus, including modern restrooms equipped with hygiene amenities and accessibility features. Regular maintenance and cleaning schedules are enforced to uphold cleanliness and hygiene standards, ensuring a sanitary environment for all.

Furthermore, our commitment extends beyond the confines of our campus as we actively engage in community outreach and development projects aimed at improving access to clean water and sanitation in surrounding areas. Through partnerships with local authorities, NGOs, and community organizations, we leverage our resources and expertise to implement sustainable solutions that address water and sanitation challenges in neighbouring communities.

At University, we understand that access to clean water and sanitation is not only a basic human need but also a catalyst for socio-economic development and environmental sustainability. By prioritizing clean water and sanitation initiatives, we strive to create a campus environment where everyone can thrive in good health and dignity, while also contributing to broader efforts to achieve the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal 6: Clean Water and Sanitation.

Description of Participation of National Service Scheme (NSS) and National Cadet Corps (NCC) during 2022-23

The National Service Scheme was started to establish a meaningful linkage between the campus and the community. Mahatma Gandhi, the Father of the Nation, had recognized that the country could not progress in a desired direction until the student youth were motivated to work for the upliftment of the villages/community. For Gandhiji the villages, where majority of the population lived, represent the country i.e. India. Therefore, for the national reconstruction and national resurgence it was deemed fit that the students and teachers should be properly sensitized and utilized for strengthening the Indian society as a whole with particular emphasis on rural community. Therefore, student youth, teachers and the community are considered the three basic components of the National Service Scheme.

7 AFFORDABLE AND CLEAN ENERGY

SDG:7 AFFORDABLE AND CLEANENERGY

Affordable and clean energy is a vital component of sustainable development, essential for driving progress while mitigating environmental impacts. Parul University recognizes the pivotal role of affordable and clean energy in shaping a resilient and prosperous future. As a leading educational institution committed to sustainability and innovation, we prioritize the promotion and integration of renewable energy sources across our campus.

University has embarked on a multifaceted approach to ensure access to affordable and clean energy for our campus community. Through the installation of solar panels, wind turbines, and other renewable energy technologies, we harness the power of nature to generate clean electricity. These initiatives not only reduce our carbon footprint but also contribute to cost savings and energy independence.

In addition to producing clean energy, Parul University emphasizes energy efficiency and conservation measures to optimize resource utilization and minimize waste. We have implemented energy-efficient lighting systems, heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC) systems, and smart building technologies to reduce energy consumption while maintaining comfort and functionality.

Moreover, University actively promotes research and innovation in the field of clean energy, fostering collaboration between students, faculty, and industry partners to develop sustainable solutions to energy challenges. Our research endeavours encompass a wide range of topics, including renewable energy technologies, energy storage systems, and energy management strategies, with the aim of advancing the transition towards a clean energy future.

Beyond our campus borders, Parul University engages with local communities to raise awareness about the importance of affordable and clean energy and promote adoption of sustainable practices. Through outreach programs, workshops, and educational initiatives, we empower individuals and communities to embrace renewable energy solutions and contribute to a greener, more sustainable future. We strive to be at the forefront of efforts to create a cleaner, healthier, and more equitable world for future generations.

Objectives of visit:

The primary objectives of the industrial visit to AMUL Dairy were to:

1. Gain Practical Insight: Understand the real-world operations of a renowned dairy cooperative, especially the processes involved in cheese and chocolate production.
2. Apply Classroom Knowledge: Relate theoretical concepts learned in classrooms to actual industrial processes, enhancing our understanding and bridging the gap between theory and practice.
3. Learn about Quality Control: Observe quality control measures implemented in the dairy industry to ensure the production of safe and high-quality products.

SUMMARY OF VISIT:

At 10:00 AM, we arrived at AMUL. We then regrouped at the main entrance and went to different parts of AMUL. At the dairy memorial theatre, we began with the animation film that traced the history of Amul Dairy from its humble beginnings in the Anand district. Additionally, it included information about the company's history and current operations in the dairy sector for various milk products. The technical team has presented a presentation with numerous functional block diagrams and existing computer-controlled gear to describe the automation of the dairy industry.

Learning Outcomes:

The visit to AMUL Dairy proved to be an enriching experience, yielding the following learning outcomes:

1. Understanding Production Processes: Witnessing the cheese production process from milk collection, pasteurization, curd formation, and maturation to packaging provided a comprehensive understanding of the intricate steps involved. Similarly, observing the chocolate production line, from cocoa bean processing to molding and packaging, shed light on the complexities of the confectionery industry.
2. Application of Food Safety Measures: Observing the strict adherence to hygiene and food safety protocols underscored the significance of maintaining cleanliness and quality standards in food production. This learning is crucial for anyone aspiring to work in the food industry.
3. Quality Control Insights: Learning about quality control measures, such as regular testing of milk samples and finished products, highlighted the dairy's commitment to consistent quality. This exposure emphasized the importance of stringent quality checks in maintaining customer trust.

4. Appreciation for Cooperative Model: Understanding AMUL's cooperative structure and its role in empowering local farmers demonstrated the effectiveness of collaborative efforts. This learning can be applied to other sectors, showcasing the benefits of collective initiatives.
5. Technological Advancements: Witnessing the integration of technology, automation, and data-driven decision-making in the production processes showcased the modernization of the dairy industry. This exposure to technological advancements is essential for staying competitive in today's business environment.

Conclusion: The AMUL industrial visit provided an invaluable opportunity to connect theoretical knowledge with practical applications. Witnessing the cheese and chocolate production processes, understanding quality control practices, and exploring the cooperative model broadened our horizons. The visit served as a reminder of the dairy industry's importance, the role of collaboration in business success, and the need for continuous adaptation to technological advancements. The Civil Engineering Department of Parul Institute of Engineering & Technology, Parul University, Vadodara j has organized an interactive session and group discussion session on National Pollution Control Day on 02/12/2022. The session was conducted by Nirav M. Patel working as Assistant Professor in Civil Engineering Department, PIET, Vadodara.

The session began with the general group discussion on pollution and environmental effect for enhancement of knowledge of environmental impact started at 10:00 am, students discussed the importance of the environment and pollution control. The interaction session started with the history of pollution control day by Dr. Papu Kumar Naik, Assistant Professor, Parul Institute of Applied Science, Parul University. Then, he explains the various laws regarding pollution prevention regulations.

Every year on December 2, National Pollution Control Day is observed in memory of those who died in the Bhopal Gas Tragedy on the nights of December 2 and 3, 1984. Thousands of individuals died due to the unintentional release of the hazardous chemical Methyl Isocyanate (MIC). It is regarded as one of the worst industrial disasters in modern history, and organizations are still battling for justice and recompense for those who died and others who are still suffering due to the gas leak.

The Bhopal Gas Catastrophe was the biggest industrial pollution accident in history, killing 25,000 people due to their exposure to these deadly chemicals.

This year celebrates the 36th anniversary of the Bhopal Gas Tragedy, which occurred at midnight on December 2, 1984. According to the NHP, air pollution kills over 7 million people yearly. It also claims that nine out of 10 people worldwide do not have appropriate access to clean air. The situation has deteriorated. Contaminants in the air will beat the protective barriers in the body, causing harm to the lungs, brain, and heart. Air pollution is to blame for the ozone layer's depletion.

Glimpses of activity:

The session then ended with a very healthy and fruitful discussion between our resource personand students.

Outcome:

The interactive session on “National Pollution Control Day” was very informative. The students have enhanced their knowledge in the field of pollution prevention. The importance of pollution control acts and making them aware of industrial disasters. The day aims to bring awareness to people about the prevention of air, soil, noise, and water pollution.
